Memorial Day Exercises

IN MATTAPOISETT

Residents of Mattapoisett are cordially invited to attend and participate in Memorial Day services on Monday, May 25th, sponsored by Florence Eastman Post No. 280 of the American Legion, Post Commander Elmer Sylvia announced.

The traditional commemorative rites are scheduled to begin at 2 P.M. at the Library lawn, Barstow Street, Commander Sylvia added. The services will be followed by a parade to the wharf and to Cushing Cemetery.

Memorial Day observances have been carried out in both the North and the South since 1868, a tradition begun "to respect comrades who died in defense of their country". For many years after the Civil War, the Grand Army of the Republic in the North and the Confederate Veterans in the South took charge of Memorial Day services in their respective communities.

When these organizations became unable to carry on actively these rites (which include the decoration of all known veteran grave sites), the American Legion pledged its help to the perpetuation of the annual observance of Memorial Day, Commander

Memorial Day

Memorial Day is among our most hallowed days. It is a bridge of honor connecting those who enjoy life in our nation to those who gave their lives to make such a life possible. We all have our heroes. Some fell defending this country in battle and others fell while quietly building and upholding the principles of hard work, honesty and decency that is the core of the strength of free men. This, then, is a time to remember and value their efforts. It is a time to hope fervently that these principles for which brave men died will continue always to be their living and effective memorial.

Sylvia explained. Although it began as an occasion to commemorate the dead of all wars, Memorial Day has since become a time for the decoration of graves of family and friends.

In urging the widest possible participation by Mattapoisett residents in Memorial Day services, Commander Sylvia referred to the following excerpt from General John A. Logan's original order for the observance of Memorial Day:

"Let no avarice or neglect, no ravages of time testify to present or coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic."

Commander Sylvia reminded that the observance of Memorial Day in Mattapoisett should include the display of the United States Flag by every home and business firm.

Marion Republicans

The Republican Town Committee of Marion met on April 23rd at Town House with Arthur Milhench, chairman. The secretary's report and treasurer's report were read by Unice Ashworth and Anne Francis respectively.

The committee regretfully accepted the resignation of Arthur Milhench and elected David Titus as the new chairman.

Joan Thatcher was elected to fill a vacancy on the regular committee, and Richard Paull and Kathryn Ellis Nowak were elected delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held June 27th at Prudential Center.

Senator William Weeks, who is opposing Hastings Keith for the House of Representatives, spoke, outlining why he felt he deserved the support of our voters. Mr. Wagner, Mr. Keith's new administrator in New Bedford, also was introduced, followed by Fred Underhill, State Committeeman, giving news from the Republican State Committee.

Refreshments were served by Norma Fleming and an informal social hour followed, giving the members a chance to speak informally with the three guests.

Parish Hall Plans

CAPITAL FUNDS CAMPAIGN

A capital funds campaign to finance construction of a new parish hall and religious education building is to be conducted by the First Congregational Church of Marion the week of June 1. A kick-off dinner in the Congregational Chapel that night will launch the undertaking. Robert R. Thackeray is general chairman. The goal is $125,000.

The building program, which culminates several years of study and planning, was approved at a special meeting of the church last month. It calls for construction of a two-story building adjoining the existing Chapel, on land purchased by the church five years ago. It will provide classroom space for about 230 Sunday School pupils, a parish hall that will seat 300 and comfortably feed about 250, a large kitchen, a pastor's study and adequate office space.

The kick-off dinner, to which all members and friends of the church are invited, will be served by a committee headed by Mrs. Robert R. Thackeray and Mrs. Robert M. Hastings. An official of Chase Association, professional fund-raising counsel, will be a principal speaker. An intensive parish-wide visitation will follow on June 2, 3 and 4.

Marso; follow-up, Alan O. Stickles; publicity, William A. Clough. Each chairman is recruiting his or her own committee members.

The Congregational Chapel was a gift to the church from Marion's benefactor, Mrs. Elizabeth Taber, in the 1880's and has been used for Sunday School classes, church committee meetings and suppers over the years. At present, the first five grades of the Sunday School meet there. The upper grades, which for many years met in the church sanctuary, are currently using classrooms at St. Gabriel's Church.

Steady growth of church and Sunday School led to the creation of a building needs committee in 1962. This later became the building committee with Mr. Thackeray continuing as chairman. The committee visited and inspected many completed church building projects, studied various types of construction, and consulted with architects and builders in the process of developing the program finally presented and approved.

The accepted plan is the work of Hellman-Kempton Associates of Falmouth, architects.

GREEN QUAHOGS?

Green quahogs were taken from the beds at Brandt Island this past week. When the color was discovered, the shellfish warden was notified and he, in turn, called in the Department of Natural Resources man. The shellfish were given a clean bill of health with a very interesting explanation for the St. Patrick's Day coloring. Warm weather produces algae rich in chlorophyll and this is the normal diet of shellfish. Chlorophyll is green and so the quahog takes on that color. The oyster growers of France capitalize on green shellfish and charge the gourmet a fancy price for that color product.

So long as the shellfish is taken in clean waters and meets the established standards of quality, a green coloration is a healthy one, according to the explanation by the Department of Natural Resources.

Letters to The Editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR
IN REPLY TO THE CAMPUS BATTLEGROUND

This letter is in reply to Mr. Jason's editorial on Campus Battleground in the May 13, 1970 issue of the Presto Press.

I am a college student, not what many of you would probably call a "hippie". I first of all agree with Mr. Jason that much of today's strife on America's campuses is caused by outside agitators. However, I question several of his other statements.

The editor states that those who want such things as Civil Rights, Peace, Ecology, Get out of Viet Nam Now, and an Evacuation of Cambodia to be idealists. Does he believe that none of these are possible? How naive can this man be?

The editor goes on to make mention of the incident at Kent State University. Certainly the students returned canisters of tear gas as well as rocks, but, I quote the May 18, 1970 issue of Time Magazine: "a few students picked up the canisters and threw them back, but they fell short of the troops"; and, "The troopers soon found themselves facing a fence and flanked by rock-throwing students, who rarely came close enough to hit anyone." From this horrifying harassment several incidents grew. Again I quote: "Several times a few of them turned, pointed their M-1's threateningly at the crowd..." Then, the killings...and again I quote Kent State Professor of Journalism, Charles Brill: "They (National Guardsmen) were organized, it was not scattered. It looked like a firing squad." A guardsman said, "I felt like I'd just had an order to clean up a latrine, you do what you're told to do."

I'm sorry, Mr. Editor, but to me this sounds more like murder than crowd control. Consider the cause. These students assembled on their campus to talk over what was happening when they were forced off their campus by people, the National Guardsmen, saying that they had no right to assemble. They had more of a right to be there than the Guard. This article also said that students were not led by agitators. The dictionary defines agitate as to disturb, excite, perturb. Now, considering the facts, it seems to me that the agitators were not the students but the National Guardsmen. In this case the editor is wrong.

As for the rest of the editor's article, saying the leaders of the student cause is not peace but to maintain a state of revolt well this is quite a bold statement. The majority of students I've spoken to at my school and at others are completely in favor of the United States system of government. The way in which the system is being misused, twisted, and maltreated by many politicians today is the cause for much deserved protest.

I write this not against Mr. Jason. I do respect him in many ways. I merely disagree with his thoughts in this article and suggest to him that he should read more and watch television a little less.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

There are few communities in the United States where it has ever been necessary to establish martial law. I'm just idealistic enough to prefer it that way. DCJ, editor

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

I just received my paper and would like to commend you for your editorial: CAMPUS BATTLEGROUND - stating that "the leaders in the college revolt are not working for PEACE IN VIET NAM - not PEACE anywhere. The purpose of these trained leaders is war on the United States system and all who defend its Constitution. The leaders of this revolution have no scruples in the promotion of their ideology. They use whatever innocent pawns are at hand, effectively and expendably."

among many) regarding Kent College - was the "arms" used by the students - stones, coat-hangers twisted with hook out, baseball bats, spikes, etc. Any one of the above-mentioned is a deadly weapon if it hits a person in the right place - just as much as a gun is.

I was glad you brought up the fact again that bullets taken from one body were not of military type, because I had seen ONE PICTURE IN ONE PAPER ONLY (Record American) showing a National Guard officer holding a student who had a gun! I do hope this matter is thoroughly investigated by the FBI, the one department of our Government whom we can be sure will get the true facts!

I am sending your editorial to Hastings Keith, asking that he place it in the Congressional Record.

Peace in Our Time. . .

AND OUR IMPERFECT CONSTITUTION
Editorial, D.C.J.

To a generation brought up on social studies, the events leading to World War II are dusty words in some unread volume. The name of Neville Chamberlain would be unfamiliar. Yet, Mr. Chamberlain would fit right in today. He was a sincere man. He was a man of peace. When confronted by a totalitarian ideology, Mr. Chamberlain thought he could buy peace for his generation by giving up territory and walking away from the fight. To a generation who lived it, this action guaranteed World War II.

Youth of today are impatient for peace. Many are also impatient with the imperfections of our system. Some of them want to destroy it to erase the flaws. I found the following advice as modern as tomorrow. The words were written by the wisest sage of his time and perhaps of all time. He was an old man of 81 years. The occasion was the moment for signing the Constitution. He wanted to generate approval and these are the words of Benjamin Franklin:

"In these sentiments, sir, I agree to this Constitution, with all its faults -- if they are such -- because I think a general government necessary for us...

"I doubt, too, whether any other convention we can obtain may be able to make a better Constitution; for, when you assemble a number of men, to have the advantage of their joint wisdom, you inevitably assemble with those men all their prejudices, their passions, their errors of opinion, their local interests and their selfish views. From such an assembly, can a perfect production be expected?

"It therefore astonishes me, sir, to find this system approaching so near to perfection as it does; and I think it will astonish our enemies who are waiting with confidence to hear that our consels are confounded like those of the builders of Babel, and that our states are on the point of separation.

Since Franklin and the Constitutional Convention, our Constitution has been amended many times. It continues to change and renew to meet the future. That's the beauty of it. There has never been a document made by imperfect mortals which has stood the test so well.

Only riot and violence threaten it.

What place have these twin tools of ignorance on the college campus?

Prom Queen Crowned

JUNIOR PROM HELD

The Class of 1971 of Old Rochester Regional High School held its Junior Prom on Saturday evening at Stevenson's Restaurant, Dartmouth.

Climaxing the evening of dinner and dancing was the grand march and selection of the Queen, Miss Debby Woodcock, of Mattapoisett. Debby received her crown and a bouquet of roses from her predecessor, Janice Rider, of Marion.

Members of the Queen's Court included Florence Taylor of Mattapoisett, lady-in-waiting; Donna Gibbs of Marion, Kathy Beauregard, Gail Chase, Louise Ham, Kathy Perrault and Pam Ryder, all of Mattapoisett. Each member of the court received a long-stemmed American Beauty rose and a silver bracelet engraved with the date and the occasion.

With or without official recognition, however, reports have it that every girl there was a queen. And with or without mementos, a Junior Prom is still an occasion to remember.

CONTEST FOR SEAL NEARING DEADLINE

The Rochester Historical Society's contest to find an appropriate historical symbol that can be used for the organization's official seal is drawing to a close. All entries must be submitted to Mrs. Ralph Walker, Snipatuit Road, Rochester, by the May 25th deadline. First prize is a $25. savings bond with second and third prizes of $10 and $5 respectively. Entries will be judged at the May 27th meeting of the Historical Society to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Vaughan, Dexter Lane. Selection of the winning symbol will be based on originality and appropriateness of the design, not on artistic ability. All area residents are urged to enter regardless of age.

The Historical Society recently celebrated its first anniversary as a corporation while meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Enroth. At that time plans were made concerning the special Museum of Antiques and Heirlooms to be held in August. It was decided that in connection with the event a booklet would be published which would contain some history, photographs, and colorful anecdotes taken from Rochester's past. Clifton Vaughan was named chairman of the Booklet Committee. Advertisements and sponsors will be sought to help defray costs. Mrs. James Gurney, president, Mrs. Clifton Vaughan and Mrs. Maurice Gifford were selected to compile the historical sections of the booklet.

All interested persons are invited to attend the May 27th meeting which will begin at 8 P.M.

Medicare & Home Visits

REVISIONS IN MEDICARE COVERAGE FOR HOME VISITS

There has been a revision in the guidelines for determining whether or not the type of care given a patient in the home by the District Nurse will be paid for by Medicare. As before, Medicare will pay for the home visit when (1) the patient is homebound, and (2) the services are under a physician's plan of care. But there is a more rigid interpretation of the patient's need for "skilled nursing care".

The nursing service must be directly related to active treatment. As a general rule, nursing service will not be paid for by Medicare when the service of the nurse is primarily a matter of assisting with such activities as bathing, dressing, eating, walking, or taking medicine on a regular schedule.

Visits by the District Nurse to the home are always available but the patient himself will have to pay the cost when the assistance given by the District Nurse does not qualify as "skilled nursing service" as defined by Medicare. Individual interpretations on the need for "skilled nursing services" will be necessary in some cases. If you have any questions in regard to this new interpretation the members of the District Nurses' Advisory Board will be willing to help you understand better the present coverage. You may call Donald H. Finley, chairman, 3312.

The present charge for one visit of the District Nurse is $4.50. This fee is adjustable according to ability to pay. You may be assured that no one will be refused needful care.

MEDICAL ASSISTANT PROGRAM

Plans for a Medical Assistant Program are now being formed for an opening date of September, 1970, at the Upper Cape Cod Regional Vocational-Technical School of Bourne. The program is specifically aimed at teaching: 1) business and secretarial practices pertaining to the health agency or doctors' private offices; 2) increasing the general knowledge of the medical areas and 3) teaching selected medical procedures in the office of doctors, laboratories, hospitals or other health agencies.

The program will function on a school year and include regular holidays and vacations. The only cost will be for uniforms, books and graduation fees. The program is open to residents of the school district comprising the towns of Falmouth, Bourne, Sandwich, Marion and Wareham on the post-high school grade level. Good character, references, good health and an interest in working with people are requisites for being accepted into the program.

Those interested may write or phone the Coordinator of Health Occupations or Guidance Department of the Upper Cape Cod Regional Vocational-Technical School, Bourne, Massachusetts.

A THANK YOU

Mattapoisett is most fortunate to have such officers to protect and serve them. Many thanks Officer Moore.

I am back home with my knitting, hoping for good weather and visitors.

A public whist party will be held this Monday, May 25th, at 2 P.M. at the Fairhaven Grange Hall, 52 William Street, Fairhaven to benefit the Lecturer's Fund.

CONGRATULATIONS Editorial, D.C.J.

A word of pride in the manner that our local students are handling themselves on current political issues. This method of forming ideas through reading and discussion and then writing to representatives in the Congress is a striking contrast in intelligent and adult action.

A THANK YOU

I would like to thank all of the people that were involved in helping me when I had my accident on February 28, 1970 in Marion. I have finally improved and am home after two months in the hospital, and this is possible because of all the help from concerned people. You all deserve my gratitude and appreciation. It has been an ordeal I'll never forget. Thank you all very much.
